Committed to the Cause...

The Indian economy is expected to grow at sustained high rates over the next few decades and emerge as the second largest economy by 2050. These robust projections have much to do with the demographic profile of the country. India is slated to have one of the youngest populations in the world, with the bulk of the population figuring in the working age. Low dependency ratio and a surplus workforce will put India at a strong comparative advantage vis-à-vis most major economies. However, in order to utilise this 'demographic dividend' effectively, India needs to impart adequate and appropriate skills to its workforce.

SGSY, having the objective of skilling and gainfully employing the poor and unemployed youth of the nation and thus making them a part of our development process, is a step in the right direction. Being a project implementing agency for the ambitious scheme is a matter of pride for AROH Foundation, and we have been executing and delivering with commitment and devotion. AROH is committed to the economic empowerment of our poor and rural youth which in turn will also bridge the skill deficits in the industrial sectors.

Although work is its own reward, but Team AROH got a shot in the arm when AROH received an Excellence Award for its worthy efforts in social sector. We are now more strongly committed to the cause of economic empowerment of the poor...

Dr. Neelam Gupta
President & CEO

Visit of Officials from National Institute of Rural Development (NIRD), Hyderabad

Dr. Hegde, was deeply moved and impressed by the Padho aur Badho program which AROH is implementing in collaboration with Gas Authority of India Limited (GAIL). This AROH-GAIL initiative works towards mainstreaming the poor, out of school children in the age group of 6-14 years of age into formal education. Then, Mr. Rezwan Uz Zaman Ahmed (Project Manager - SGSY SP), made a presentation on AROH's progress in the SGSY SP, showing the achievements so far and also the future course of action to achieve the target within the time frame. Also shared were some innovative ideas AROH is practising for tracking the beneficiaries. The highlight was the amount of effort AROH is putting in to provide handholding support to all trained and placed beneficiaries.

places with due permissions from their Human Resources Department to be present at the event and interact with the NIRD officials. Dr. Hegde addressed the beneficiaries and appreciated their work, dedication and enthusiasm. Mr. Ranghey Raghaw spoke about the importance of education and asked the beneficiaries to always respect their teachers and trainers, and to be in touch with AROH's SGSY SP team to share their needs and wants for future career growth.

Mr. Ranghey Raghaw made a mention about the State Minimum Wages of Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan and Haryana and was glad to know that AROH Foundation's beneficiaries are also aware of the State Minimum Wages, and all are currently getting a monthly salary package higher than the minimum wages.

Post lunch, the officials visited NEOKRAFT, wherein 65 female beneficiaries of AROH are presently working.

Mr. Arun Gupta, welcomed the NIRD Officials to visit the Shop

Floor to get an overview of how beneficiaries work in the Organization. There, Mr. Ranghey Raghaw discussed with six female beneficiaries of AROH Foundation about their experience in working at NEOKRAFT and the packages that they were being offered.

The beneficiaries are quite happy that AROH provided a new light to their lives and by further supporting them by way of providing conveyance facilities (pick and drop). Overall they get Rs 6,000 – 6500 per month as salary along with PF, ESI facilities. Further, if the free conveyance facility is considered, the package per beneficiary touches Rs. 7500/- per month.

Mr. Yash Wardhan, CEO of NEOKRAFT says, "AROH is providing good skilled manpower to us, in fact we are in need and are asking for more. We have decided to support AROH by giving technical input to support the training of machine operators for buffing machines to meet our requirement of such technically skilled manpower."

Tracking - A Strong Tool of Success of AROH SGSY

Tracking the beneficiaries who have been placed in the jobs is a challenging task, but AROH through its sincere efforts has been able to devise a sound strategy to track the placed beneficiaries. The Placement team has been further strengthened with Counselors, Tele-callers and Helpdesk facilities and beneficiaries are encouraged to keep in touch.

Tracking of beneficiaries is done through a three-pronged strategy (post placement).

Through the supervisors / HR personnel of the employers – By being in constant touch with the organisations with whom we have tie up with for placements, we are able to track our beneficiaries. Industry visits are made to meet the employers and the beneficiaries, this is done to so as to listen to queries, discuss problems, find suitable solutions or apply remedial measures. Award ceremonies are also conducted for the candidates who have been retained in the industry for more than 3 months.

A dedicated tele-calling cell-cum-help desk has been established to make contact with the beneficiaries on a regular basis. Industry wise beneficiary lists are maintained by the team and called on an individual basis. Special care is taken of the recently placed beneficiaries as they are vulnerable and totally new to city / work environment. Proper assistance is provided in finding local accommodation.

Village wise tracking – Sometimes it is difficult to track those beneficiaries who have left their respective organisations / work places and gone back home, because they keep changing their contact numbers. To tackle this issue, we have devised a strategy to track beneficiaries at the village level. We engage our mobilisers, especially to visit the local addresses of our beneficiaries and take out information as in current contact numbers, alternate numbers, current work place etc. The mobilisers motivate those who are out of jobs to take up employment again. The mobilisers pass the information to the Head Office and the beneficiaries are once again offered suitable employment options.
